“If we search into the root of our distempers, we shall find that our hearts and spirits have not been exercised with that consideration of the person and offices of Christ which our duty calls for. We have not been kept in a constant adoration of his majesty, admiration of his Excellency, delight in his beauty, joy in his undertaking,...

holy thoughtfulness of his whole mediation. This has betrayed us into lukewarmness and indifferency, and made us faint and weary in his ways....Take the counsel of our blessed apostle, ‘Consider Jesus, the Apostle and High Priest of our confession (Heb. 3:1);’ and again, ‘Consider Him who endured such hostility by sinners against Himself, so that you will not grow weary and lose heart (12:3).’
